

The Weekly Dome Report

Week of February 10th, 2020.....Volume 20.....Space News and Stuff

Upcoming Events:

Monday, Feb. 10th

6pm: Mythology Monday - The Moon (FREE)

Friday, Feb. 14th

7pm: Final Frontier Friday - Valentine's Day Special! ($1)

Saturday, Feb. 15th

2pm: Phantom of the Universe

3pm: Wonders of the Universe

7pm: From Earth to the Universe

Saturday tickets are just $5! Get them online at planetarium.truman.edu, or at the door (cash only)

A SUCCESSFUL LANDING

ASTRONAUT LANDS BACK ON EARTH

Image credit: NASA TV

Christina Koch landed on earth in the country of Kazakhstan, just to the south of Russia, today with two of her International Space Station (ISS) crewmates. This marks a new record for the longest amount of time spent in space in one trip by a female American astronaut, with the previous record of 289 days being held by Peggy Whitson. Kock orbited earth for a total of 328 days, which is the second longest amount of time spent in space for an American astronaut. One of the crewmates who returned to Earth with her, Luca Parmitano, set records for the European Space Agency (ESA). Parmitano has logged a total of 367 days in space, which is the most by any ESA astronauts.

Read more at Space.com

Find us Online!

Twitter: @TrumanDome

Facebook: Del and Norma Robsion Planetarium

Website: www.planetarium.truman.edu

Email: planetarium@truman.edu

See you in the Dome!

FREE HUMOR

