

The Weekly Dome Report

Week of November 16, 2020..... Volume 31.....Space News and Stuff

Upcoming Events

Friday, Nov.20

6pm.....Final Frontier Friday

Saturday, Nov. 7

2pm.....Stellar Saturday

7pm.....Stellar Saturday

Monday, Nov.23

6pm.....Mythology Monday

See you in the next year!

SpaceX and NASA: BFFs

The first official ISS mission for the Falcon 9 and dragon took place on Saturday, November 14.

Earlier this year on May 30, SpaceX launched two NASA astronauts to the International Space Station (ISS). This was the last step in obtaining certification from NASA for their Falcon 9 and Dragon spacecraft launch system, making it the first commercial spacecraft certified for human transport. Three astronauts from NASA and one from Japan's space agency are set to have a full length stay in orbit above the planet. After years of test launches, docking simulations, and safety tests SpaceX is finally launching commercial spacecraft to new heights. Between launching comprehensive satellite coverage to building their own rockets, SpaceX is certainly setting themselves up to be at the forefront of commercial space travel and innovation.

WEIRD SPACEFACT

COSMIC RAYS ARE PASSING THROUGH YOU
RIGHT NOW. WE DON'T KNOW WHERE THEY COME FROM.

FREE HUMOR

Original Story:

<https://techcrunch.com/2020/11/11/spacexs-falcon-9-rocket-and-dragon-capsule-are-now-officially-certified-for-human-spaceflight-by-nasa/>

Keep up with the Dome:

planetarium.truman.edu

@TrumanDome

